

ROSSLARE

Wildlife Treasure Hunt + Playing Games

With: Laura Flood and Liz Flynn
Where? Johnstown Castle and Estate, Museums and Gardens, Co. Wexford Y35 HP22
Who is it for? Ages 6 - 4
What time?
11:00 - 12:30 or 14:00 - 15:30

Details:

Working with the permaculture principle to 'observe and interact', this fun workshop provokes curiosity of our natural surroundings. Through team-work, the children will play a discovery game, a bit like a treasure hunt, searching for colours, textures and particular items that can be found in the grounds of Johnstown Castle. They will then explore what they have found using their senses and imagination. Gaining points throughout the process (the team with the most points wins!), the workshop will help children consider how to develop rules and guidelines for games and gaming.

Macallaí na Farrage/Echoes of the Sea by Rosslare National School

With: Melanie O'Reilly and Álainna Hammel
Where? Rosslare Maritime Heritage Centre, Main Road, Rosslare Harbour Y35 a586.
Who is it for? All Ages
What time? 12:00 - 12:30

Details:

A collaboration between Cruinniú na nÓg and the Rosslare Harbour Festival, Macallaí na Farrage is a short performance that has been developed by the students of Rosslare National School with spoken word artist Álainna Hammel and musician Melanie O'Reilly. Drawing from the themes of the sea and the cultural and natural environment around Rosslare, the children have scripted a scene from a video-game – the mission is to save Wexford's environmental future. Featuring both Irish and French languages that are inherent in Rosslare's rich history, the children will use their voices to sing and soundscape an aural accompaniment to the scene.
